

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) is making technical corrections to two regulations to reflect a reorganization and change in the name of its former Consumer Response Center. The new name is the National Center for Consumer and Depositor Assistance (NCDA).

The regulations that are subject to this technical change are the Fair Housing Rule and the Consumer Protection in Sales of Insurance Rule.

To ensure that consumers have the most up to date information on how to contact the FDIC to submit consumer complaints and deposit insurance inquiries, the FDIC is making technical corrections to 12 CFR part 338 and 12 CFR part 343 to replace references to the “Consumer Response Center” with the “National Center for Consumer and Depositor Assistance,” and to correct web addresses.

You can read the changes here.

As these changes were effective August 8, 2022, CCI recommends all FDIC Bank’s update their Fair Housing Poster.
